He tells us Columbus is particularly lively at present, a number of wheat buyers making it their headquarters, and the ferry is kept busy bringing over wheat.

BORN. In The Dalles last night, to the wife of Ed. S. Mayes, a son. The clock was striking the midnight hour at the time of birth, and its parents are yet uncertain whether whether to date its age from Oct. 4th or 5th. On 15-Mile, Oct. 1st, to the wife of John W. Quirk, a son.

DIED. In The Dalles, just before midnight Sunday, Mrs. Jane Foley, aged 65 years. Mrs. Foley, formerly Mrs. Josiah Marsh, was a pioneer of 1850. She was married to Mr. Foley about twenty years ago. She has been in poor health for some time.

Hon. Richard J. Monroe. Miss Kate Craig is in Lewiston, Idaho, where she went about two weeks ago to attend the funeral of her half brother, Richard A. Monroe, who died at Lewiston Thursday, Sept. 24th. Mr. Monroe was well known to the citizens of The Dalles, having lived here for several years subsequent to 1851.

Deceased was a charter member of Nez Perce Lodge No. 10, of which he was Worshipful Master in 1881-2, and he was High priest of Lewiston chapter No. 4, R. A. M., and was also a 14 degree Scottish Rite Mason. He was a charter member of Clearwater Lodge No. 11, A. O. U. W., in which he held a beneficiary certificate for $2,000.

Richard James Monroe was born in Florida, on Christmas day, 1836. A few months after his birth, his father, who was an army surgeon, was killed in an Indian engagement. His mother returned to Boston, Mass., and a few years later married Dr. Craig, also a surgeon in the U. S. army. They were stationed at different points in Maine, Michigan and Wisconsin until 1851, when Craig was ordered to The Dalles, Or., coming by way of the Isthmus of Panama, where several of his children died of cholera. After leaving the service he and his stepson, the subject of this sketch, engaged in the drug business at The Dalles. In 1855 Mr. Monroe volunteered in Company B, 1st regiment Oregon Volunteers, and served in the Cayuse war until its close, and also in a campaign against the Mormons in Utah.

From 1860 to 1867 he was engaged in freighting and merchandising in various sections contiguous to Lewiston, coming to that place as early as 1856. In 1867 he went into the drug business in Lewiston, and in 1871 he was appointed register of the Lewiston land office by President Grant. He was reappointed by Presidents Hayes and Harrison and in all served about eighteen years in this position, longer than any other official ever served in this department of the government. He was a member of the last Idaho legislature and had served several terms as mayor of the city of Lewiston.

On account of his death the public schools were adjourned and the teachers and pupils attended the funeral in a body.

Chaff of the Campaign. There was never yet a political campaign but that some comical stories were told and THE CHRONICLE can vouch for the truth of the following:

The other day a well known rancher with a stump leg drove into Hood River and he was whooping it up for Bryan. In the exuberance of his joy, he elevated the wooden stump above the dashboard and waved it to an admiring crowd as he crowded for his champion. A grizzled veteran across the street was sitting on a chair reading the Oregonian, his feet on a level with his head, and resting against a lamp post. Down came the fore legs of his chair with a jar that shook the sidewalk, and over the top of the paper peered the stern gray eyes, which snapped their indignation through the glasses, as he shouted "That's right, you poor fool, shout for the party that cut your leg off!"

Sheriff Driver was puzzled the other day to make out whether a man was crazy or just playing it. He had about decided that his mind was all right, when he chanced to ask him who he was going to vote for. "Bryan," said the poor fellow. "Crazy as a loon," was Driver's next comment. He sent for a physician to make the examination, and sure enough the fellow was found to be non compos mentis. He is in Salem now.

County Clerk Kelsay is a Republican ever ready so champion Republican principles. He was never "knocked out" until the other day when talking to a Populist who was shouting for the restoration of the silver dollar, Kelsay asked him to explain himself. What did he mean by "restore." "Well," said the Pop, "suppose I take 10 bushels of potatoes out of my cellar, and the next day I put them back. Ain't that re-storing them?" Kelsay was speechless.

Boyd, Saturday, Oct. 10, 7 p. m. Citizens of all parties are respectfully invited.

Bucks For Sale. About one hundred head of thoroughbred De Lane Bucks for sale. These thoroughbred sheep were imported from Michigan. They are fat and clean. Parties desiring to see them at once can go to Glenwood, Wash., as they are pastured in the mountains near that place. For further particulars apply to KERR & BUCKLEY, Grass Valley, Or.

For Sale. A lot of Merino sheep, (bucks) also stock hogs and milk cows, belonging to the estate of S. Hauser. For information inquire of Mrs. S. Hauser, at Tygh Valley, or the undersigned. GEORGE A. LIEBE, Administrator.

A Portland dispatch to the San Francisco Examiner, under date of Sept. 30th, tells of an attempt made to assassinate Mayor Penneyer, which did not appear in the Portland newspapers. Mrs. John L. Henderson, whose husband was discharged from the street cleaning service, went to the mayor's house, armed with a formidable looking revolver, but Penneyer was not at home. She then proceeded to his office, but he got wind of it and fled. The dispatch states that the woman is now watched and Penneyer has a body guard.
